MISSISSIPPI HIT BY FLOOD AND STORM

TORNADO SWEEPS OVER SOUTHERN STATE COUNTIES

THREE DEAD IN TORNADO; BATTLE AGAINST FLOOD WATERS CONTINUE

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 31 (P)-Five persons dead, dying and fifty persons estimated as less seriously injured were counted today in the trail of last night's tornado that tore through Simpson and Cov-ington counties, Mississippi.

A survey of the storm's path through the isolated communities revealed dozens of demolished homes, heavy livestock losses and damaged timber.

Two of the dead were white persons. They were:

Mrs. Anse Everett, 25, crushed to death as she held an infant in her arms when her home three miles southwest of Magee was demolished. The child was unhurt.

Paul Brown, two year old son of Wilbur Brown, farmer, living five miles south of Magee, killed in the collapse of the family

Early Days Recalled.
Richard Mays and S. M. Kerr joined in the recalling of the early days of the bar in Navarro county, and numerous humorous anecdotes of the beginnings of Corsicana and Navarro county were related. It was pointed out that in the early days the livery stable and the blacksmith shop were the official sources of information.

The toastmaster expressed to the honor guest the pelasure of the occasion. County Judge Clay Nash paid tribute to Judge Stout as an outstanding member of the association, and recalled several of the early political campaigns in the county.

Judge Stout reported that on February 7, 1932, he would be 85 years of age.

We took it from the corner where we saw it as a blot,
We thought the man who ran it was the lowest of the lot.
We took it from the highway with its ever swinging door,
And we put it in the parlor where it hadn't been before.

The old saloon we banished with its smell of gin and beer.
We did it for our children! Such a notion now seems queer!
For we're prancing through the parlor with the cocktails which we make
And we're passing round the bottle—as we say—for freedom's sake.

We voted prohibition to get rid of the saloon. With its alot machine plane and its brassy, jangling tune, But we've opened wide the parlor to a wide-eyed drinking crowd their folks be very proud

ILL-BALANCED PUBLIC PAYROLLS.

One of the reasons for the every season; or on the death rate at beach and swimming hole, or on the automoile and airplane death toll, although football deaths are negligible compared with unnecessarily high cost of them.
Considering the large number of boys who participate in the sport, the accident and death rates are surprisingly low. Investigation might prove that a boy is safer on the gridinon than in an automobile or in his four home—more accidents occur in the home than anywhere else.

Conditions may cause temporary slackness in one branch of public service and rush of work in another; in the one case an under-staff-ed office is swamped with work; in the other the idle or partially employed may yawn through a day. Yet bureaucracy normally seems helpless to avoid such frozen conditions.

CONSOLIDATION OF FEDERAL BUREAUS CURTAILMENT PLAN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(P)— The administration plans a new drive for consolidation of govern-ment departments and bureaus as a means of reducing federal ex-penditures. The president made the plan public today at a press conference. Within a month or two after congress has acted on his emergency economic program, he will transmit a special message urging various consolidations.

Among them he named transfer of the shipping board into the department of comparisons. of the shipping board into the department of commerce; a grouping under one head of the government's educational activities, creation of a bureau of construction to handle all federal building activities except for the army and navy; a combination of federal conservation activities, and a similar combining of public health efforts

The text of the president's statement follows:

"The most constructive direction for economy in federal expenditure beyond a rigid reduction of appropriations and the resolute oposition to new approriations, lies the consolidation of government bureaus and general reorganization of the federal govern-

Some Consolidations.

"Some of my recommendations have been carried out, the most notable one being the consolidation of all veteran activities into the veterans' administration. As a result, General Hines reports that we are saving somewhere from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 a year in this service alone.

"Out standing amongst these reorganizations would be consolidation of all construction activities of the government under an administrator of public works to serve all the departments.

"Other cases are the consolidation of all merchant marine activities into the department of commerce; the consolidation of the conservation activities of the government cativities of the government of the gover shades vary, so that some can be found to match any dress you are wearing. One of the joys of Paris is that if you know where to go you can have these tiny handkerchiefs monogrammed for a few cents aplece. As for evening handkerchiefs, the most lovely chiffon ones cost 23 cents. But you could imitate ony of these yourself by buying linen and chiffon and having it plooted into squares.

As a practical variation of this idea I bought several inexpensive swansdown puffs for powder. Instead of sewing these to chiffon handkerchiefs or evering use, or to linen or daytime, I sewed one half of a good sized snap fastener.

into squares.

As a practical variation of this idea I bought several inexpensive swansdown puffs for powder. Instead of sewing these to chiffon handkerchiefs or evering use, or to linen or daytime, I sewed on half of a good sized snap fastener to each puff and the other half in the middle of a red handkerchie. When these puffs are filled with powder they are a most practical way of carying face powder around for retouching the nose. The rest of the handkerchief can be used for removing lipstick and the color doesn't show. When the snap fasteners is undone each part can be washed and put together again when clean.

Helen.—Any bleach will make your hair lifeless and will dry it out, even thought there might be an over secretion of oil from All over Paris red handker-chiefs.

All over Paris red handker-chiefs are being shown. They come in every possible shade of red, beginning with deep rose pink and going into dark red; they include rose red, bright scarlet and an effective orange red. They come in linen and chiffon. It wondered why so many of them were being shown, then a woman of use as you have done with and use as you have done with the rinse with lemon juice. The most satisfactory thing to do when flaxen blonde hair begins most practical and therefore completely French idea.

These are secondary handkerchiefs to carry in the hand bag. When the lipstick is applied, of course a little bit here and there must be rubbed off, obviously with the handkerchief. Is there anything messier than a white handkerchief smeared with red? With this little bit of colored chiffon or linen in your handbag you can wipe off as much lipstick as you want and it will not show. A mile of private levee at the Jones Frederick plantation, south of Glendora, gave way this morning. Water from this crevasse will flood approximately 30,000 acres in Southern Tallahatchie county. This break will somewhat relieve the pressure on the Glendora area. Livestock was moved to higher ground. No loss of life was reported.

Glendora, below the forks of the Tallahatchie and Coldwater rivers which form the Yazoo, today joined Webb, Summer and other small Tallahatchie county towns in sending emergency calls to the Parchman prison farm for convicts to strengthen the trembling levees.

Glendora's battle against crevasses in an 11-mile dyke was believed to have been won early today when the new cloudburst fell.

of a shoe box. It was labelled "table service and set."

A girl employe received the package at the consulate on the 10th floor of the Society for Savings bank building, located on Public Square, the heart of Cleveland.

The bomb plot was discovered by Capt. Amelio Ardito, secretary to the count. Noticing that the package was unusually heavy. Captain Ardito became suspicious of it. He telephoned Trombetta at New York, where the latter is publisher of a fascist newspaper.

Trombetta, a friend of Count Buzzi-Gradenigo, told the captain he had sent no package to Cleveland.

Captain Ardito called police and gave the package to them, advis-

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—(P)—Oscar
Durante, vice president of the Chicago school board and editor of a pro-fascist paper, "L'Italia," refused today to accept an express parcel from New York, fearing it might come from the same source as the bombs that killed and wounded postal employes at Easton, Pa., yesterday.

The expressman, C. W. Snell, re-

Murphy Madison, negro, who was accidentally shot Monday while out hunting with his brother, died at the P. and S. hospital Wednesday night. He had his right leg amputated Monday afternoon in an effort to save his life.
